May 29–June 1, 2018 Events

GORDON PARKS ARTS HALL

Tuesday, May 29
3–5 p.m. | Lab Faculty Guitar Social

Faculty and staff are invited to join teachers from Old Town School of Folk to the very first guitar jam. Dust off your guitar and plan to attend this one-of-a-kind experience.

Tuesday, May 29–Friday, June 1
Recording Machine | Corvus Gallery

Watch Engineer Nicholas Bergh piece together the original 1920’s Western Electric Recording System as referenced and used in the American Epic Sessions films. This machine formed the blueprint for all later sound technology.

Friday, June 1
7–8 p.m. | Hubby Jenkins concert

Hubby Jenkins is a talented multi-instrumentalist who shares his love and knowledge of old-time American music with audiences. He was an integral member of the Grammy Award Winning Carolina Chocolate Drops and continues to weave his sound through country blues, ragtime, fiddle, banjo, and traditional jazz.

The concert is for children of all ages. We ask that parents accompany their children.
