

TED BUNCH

Raising our boys to be kind, bold, and brave:

Addressing the issues of gender, privilege, and power in the socialization of young men

Ted Bunch is a national trainer, activist, educator, consultant, and mentor who works on issues of healthy gender socialization. He is also the Chief Development Officer of A Call To Men.

In this talk, co-sponsored by the PA Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee, Bunch will share insights from his co-authored book The Book of Dares and discuss how to promote respectful manhood and decrease gender-based discrimination and abuse, while celebrating diversity related to sexual identity, racial and cultural identity, and building respectful communities.

Wednesday, April 21
7-8:30 p.m.
