LGBTQ

Fiction and nonfiction featuring transgender people or children who are exploring their gender identity. Includes books with nonhuman characters which are not explicitly about gender identity, but could be read in connection with this concept. These are noted.

10,000 Dresses (Ewert)
A Family Is a Family Is a Family (O’Leary)
Annie’s Plaid Shirt (Davids)
Are You a Boy or Are You a Girl? (Savage)
From the Stars in the Sky to the Fish in the Sea (Thom)
Gender Identity Workbook for Kids (Storck)
Guji Guji (Chen) non-human characters
I Am Jazz! (Herthel)
Introducing Teddy: A Gentle Story about Gender and Friendship (Walton)
Jack, Not Jackie (Silverman)
Jacob’s New Dress (Hoffman)
Julián Is a Mermaid (Love)
Morris Micklewhite and the Tangerine Dress (Baldacchino)
Neither (Anderson) non-human characters
Not Quite Narwhal (Sima) non-human characters
One of a Kind, Like Me (Mayeno)
Piggy Bunny (Vail) non-human characters
Red: A Crayon’s Story (Hall) non-human characters
Sparkle Boy (Newman)
They He She Me: Free to Be! (Gonzalez)
Who Are You? The Kids’ Guide to Gender Identity (Pessin-Whedbee)

Fiction and nonfiction featuring families with same sex parents

And Tango Makes Three (Richardson)
The Different Dragon (Bryan)
Donovan’s Big Day (Newman)
Families (Kuklin)
Families (Rotner)
The Family Book (Parr)
The Flower Girl Wore Celery (Gordon)
The Great Big Book of Families (Hoffman)
Heather Has Two Mommies (Newman)
Home at Last (Williams)
In Our Mother's House (Polacco)
King and King (de Haan)
Maiden and Princess (Haack)
Mister Seahorse (Carle) non-human characters
Molly's Family (Garden)
One Family (Shannon)
Prince and Knight (Haack)
Stella Brings the Family (Schiffer)
A Tale of Two Daddies (Oelschlager)
This Day in June (Pitman)
Worm Loves Worm (Austrian) non-human characters
Zak's Safari (Tyner)